

SERVICE BRIEF

Office Relocation Services

Technology solutions to assist with your business' relocation.

Moving Your Physical IT Components

Record and track all hardware components of your IT network.

Relocating your office a perfectly normal occurrence. Maybe you're moving to a different part of town, or perhaps you are relocating to a different part of the country. Regardless of how far you're traveling, you'll need someone to assist with moving your technology and ensuring that your infrastructure is well-prepared for a move can be of significant value.

As a business owner, you understand how difficult it can be to facilitate an office move, your technology infrastructure notwithstanding. SRS Networks offers comprehensive office relocation services that help you get your IT infrastructure from point A to point B, all while keeping downtime to a minimum and restoring or improving your business' infrastructure.

When you are moving several workstations, servers, network components, and other pieces of hardware, it's easy to lose track of exactly what hardware you have. SRS Networks will catalogue and track all elements of your business' IT infrastructure and ensure that they safely arrive at your office's new site. That way, you can know with certainty that you aren't missing a vital component and can continue operations without a hitch.

Site Optimization

Make sure your new office is ready before arriving.

When you move to a new office, you'll want to make sure that you can get right back in the game following the move. This means that you'll want your IT systems to be accessible from day one. Therefore, it makes the most sense to get your new office ready ahead of time. This includes setting up your network components and telephone systems. The last thing you want is to get to your new office and suddenly be without access to core operational systems.

Mover-Friendly Technology Services

Consolidate your network and improve operations.

Many small businesses still live in the dark ages of data storage, where physical files must be kept on-site in file storage cabinets. This can make moving difficult, especially if you hold files that are no longer needed. By taking advantage of the cloud and an electronic record storage system, your business can bypass this issue and make moving easier. Other solutions, such as VoIP and virtualization, can also be helpful by eliminating unnecessary infrastructure components.
